OTHER REGISTERS TRANSCRIBED BY THE EDITOR.

Dunstable,	1558-1670.	Luton,	1602-1754.
Eaton Bray,	1559-1754.	Studham,	1570-1812.
Kensworth,	1615-1754.	Totternhoe,	1559-1754.

NOTE ON THE BISHOP'S TRANSCRIPTS - This term is used because it is the accepted name for the copies of the register sent every Easter to the bishop's registry, under the Canon of 1597. In a few areas (including Bedfordshire), where the archdeacon's jurisdiction was co-ordinate with that of the bishop, the archdeacon's registry received the copies, in which case the correct term would be "Archdeacon's Transcripts." For Bedfordshire they are extant from 1602 to 1871, and are fairly complete, except for the Civil War period (1643-49) and for various odd years. They comprise about 25,000 separate documents, and form part of the muniments of the Archdeaconry of Bedford which are housed in the County Record Office, Shire Hall, Bedford. For as many as 48 Bedfordshire parishes, the earliest extant volume of the original register commences after 1602 (occasionally as late as the 18th century); in those cases the "Bishop's Transcripts" are the sole source. In addition, the following defects in many original registers are often overcome with the aid of the "Bishop's Transcripts:" (a) missing leaves; (b) mutilated or incomplete entries; (c) illegible entries; (d) confused dates or arrangement. Further, the Transcripts yield facts not recorded in the Registers: these are denoted in the text by [+].

NOTE ON THE CHRONOLOGY OF THE COPIES - Until 1752 the year in England commenced legally on 25 March. The edited copies of the registers retain this method.

P R E F A C E

With this volume the Registers of sixty parishes have been published in 23 volumes of this series, two volumes having dealt with Marriage Licences. Every effort has been made to prepare additional registers for publication and those of Henlow, Astwick and Upper Stondon, three neighbouring parishes in south-east Bedfordshire will appear in the next volume.

The present publication comprises the registers of two parishes in the extreme south of the county, Caddington having partly belonged to Hertfordshire until 1895. Between Caddington and Whipsnade lies the parish of Kensworth which, until that year, lay in Hertfordshire but was then transferred to Bedfordshire.

July, 1942.

(E) MARRIAGE ENTRIES

Before 1754, the residence of the parties is not usually stated. If, however, the home parish is named, it is indicated herein by the initial letter, eg. in the Register of Elstow, "(E)" denotes "of the parish of Elstow."

After 1754, the statutory form of register states (1) the parish in which each party resided; (2) whether married by banns or by licence; (3) whether bachelor or widower, spinster or widow. It is to be understood herein, unless otherwise stated, that all parties (1) belong to the home parish; (2) are married by banns; and (3) are bachelors or spinsters.

(1 5 5 8 - 1 8 1 2)

THE transcription of the first volume of the Register was unusually difficult. The handwriting in the earlier pages has faded, but the chief problem was the confused arrangement of the entries. This disorder was increased in the rebinding of the book many years ago, when some of the leaves were further disarranged. Before copying of this volume was begun it was necessary to compile a complete list of the contents, so that none of the entries was overlooked.

The ancient parish of Caddington lay partly in Bedfordshire and partly in Hertfordshire, about two-thirds in area belonged to the latter county, but the church was situated in Bedfordshire. The south-western boundary of the parish coincides with Watling Street, on either side of which was built the hamlet of Markyeate (or Markyate Street), the eastern side only belonging to Caddington. The passage of travellers along the great highway is reflected in the large number of burials of such people. In many instances their names are omitted, merely "a stranger" or "a traveller that dyed in the highe-way;" noteworthy are: "a parlament souldger that died at Markeat Street "(1643), and "a souldger of the Kinges Arme, a Yorkeshire man "(1645). Joseph Kemp "guard to the Manchester coach" was buried in 1777. The parish was of course particularly liable to infection from the plague because of the travellers. In 1558, the first year of the Register, there is a big death roll including two vicars; and four members of one family and three of another died in the space of a few days in 1563, a year in which the plague raged in London¹. The number of burials in 1727 and 1728 are much above the average. In 1668 a fragment of rough country humour finds its way into the Register with the burial entry of "William called corny-face Hall."

A large part of the parish has belonged to the canons of St. Paul's, London, since pre-Conquest times. Partly in consequence of this, for St. Paul's had no mansion house on their estate here (which was farmed out), the Register yields an exceptionally small number of persons of substance. The burial entries give evidence, especially in the last quarter of the eighteenth century, that Caddington had a somewhat high proportion of paupers. Occupations are sparsely given and except for a "bodise maker" (p.62), include very few not normally found in a purely agricultural community.

The evidence of the Register seems to indicate that there was relatively little disturbance in the church life of Caddington during 1643-1662. The handwriting in the Register which first appears in 1641 continues until 1657. John Firmin, who had succeeded to the living in 1641, baptised his daughter here two years later, and his own burial is given in 1650. His successor seems to have been George Pierce, who "had a living in Herts., and at length ye vicaridge of Caddington in Beds. worth about £80. Here he continued till the Restoration and then returned to Tiverton."² As to Firmin, there is on record a petition dated 1643 from the Caddington parishioners for an increase in the vicar's maintenance in which they assert that for some years past they had been obliged to assist their "able and industrious minister," the profits of the vicarage being barely £30 yearly, "which charge is now so much the more heavy in respect of the free quartering of soldiers."³ The "Old Vicarage" was formerly a boarding school. It was here that the poet Cowper received the first elements of his classical education.⁴

The Caddington family names which seem to have persisted throughout the greater part of our period are: Birchmore (1569-1812), Dearmore (1558-1789), East (1616-1809), Evans (1597-1810), Halsey (1559-1805), Paine (1570-1810), Stokes (1602-1809) and Whitley (1583-1809).

³ H.M. Prescott, Notes on Caddington Church (1937), 36.

⁴ Vict. Co. Hist., Beds., ii, 314

The population of the parish in 1801 was 319 (part in Bedfordshire) and 754 (part in Hertfordshire), and in 1931 was 1579; its area was 4515 acres, 2995 being in Hertfordshire. The chief hamlets in the ancient parish were Chaul End and Woodside in Bedfordshire, and Aley Green in Hertfordshire. The eastern side of Markyate Street lay in the Hertfordshire part of the parish, but Markyate Cell belonged to Bedfordshire; the western side of Markyate Street was in the area known as Humbershoe which formed a detached part of the parish of Studham in Bedfordshire, the Register of which records the other inhabitants of Markyate. The student should consult Jefferys' Map of Bedfordshire (1765) and early editions of the one-inch Ordnance Survey in order to get a clear picture of the complicated boundaries near Caddington.

The adjoining parishes are Luton (hamlet of Leagrave, township of Luton, and hamlet of Hyde), Flamstead (Herts), Studham (detached part known as Humbershoe), Kensworth (Herts., now in Bedfordshire), Dunstable and Houghton Regis.

The Register is contained in the following volumes:-

Vol.	Baptisms	Marriages	Burials
I.	1558-1633, 1635-1705	1558-1633, 1640-1706	1558-1633, 1635-1678

No record is therefore existing for the following years:-

Arrangement of Entries

- I. Bap., Mar., & Bur. (mixed). Arrangement too confused to set out in detail (See first paragraph above).
- III. Bap. & Mar. (mixed).

Other Parish Records

These comprise churchwardens' accounts, 1717-1836; overseers' accounts (detailed disbursements) for 1648-69 (including detailed assessments) and 1713-1801 for the Hertfordshire part, and 1767-34 and 1816-34 for the Bedfordshire part; together with settlement papers, 1686-1834; all now deposited in the County Record Office, Bedford.

The editor gratefully acknowledges a donation from Mr. H.M. Prescott's executors towards the cost of publication. To local historians, the names of Caddington and Prescott had been closely associated for at least twenty years before his sudden death early in 1942, when he was planning to publish a booklet on the social history of Caddington as a worthy successor to his "Notes on Caddington Church" (1937).

PARISH REGISTER
O F
W H I P S N A D E
(1 6 0 3 - 1 8 1 2)

THIS small and out-of-the-way village on the Dunstable Downs possesses a Register dating only from 1712 (1682 in the case of burials). It is not surprising therefore to find that the record is of meagre interest except for one outstanding feature, namely, the excessive number of marriages of non-parishioners from about 1716 to 1753. In the latter year Lord Hardwick's Act put an end to such 'foreign' marriages. During 1716-1753 there are recorded 115 marriages as compared with only 25 in a similar period after 1753. Situated as it is near the place where the counties of Buckinghamshire and Hertfordshire meet our county, it is only natural that many of these out-parish marriages are of non-Bedfordshire parties. Doubtless the isolated position of this little parish endowed it with a romantic character.

The population of Whipsnade was small enough at the beginning of the nineteenth century when the first census was taken, but it is clear from the Register that, two centuries earlier, the number of households could hardly have exceeded a score. The manor belonged to the family of Vaux from 1606 to 1808, coinciding almost exactly with the period of our record, and various members of this family were baptised and buried here. The local pronunciation of "Juffs" as "Geo" may be noted (baptism, 1780).

Of the Whipsnade family names, only one seems to have persisted throughout the greater part of our period: Birdmore (1629-1809).

The population of the parish in 1801 was 140, and in 1931 was 87; its area is 928 acres.

The adjoining parishes are Kensworth (Herts., now in Bedfordshire), Studham, Eaton Bray and Totternhoe.
